You've invested the time to learn Remote Viewing. Now, are you ready to make the investment pay off?

As a student of the amazing technique of Remote Viewing, you know that it allows you to tap into the unlimited power of your unconscious mind. As astounding as this power is, you might have asked yourself the question: "What serious or practical use is it, other than for finding my car keys?"

Now, we are privileged and delighted to offer you the opportunity to learn an eminently practical application for this amazing skill. Even more exciting, you'll learn it directly from the original co-founder of Remote Viewing: Russell Targ, leader of the team at Stanford Research Institute that during the 1970s and 80s created Remote Viewing as a system of protocols giving ordinary people direct access to their natural psychic abilities. The original focus of the team's work was to enable the U.S. Military to spy on the Soviets during the Cold War, with convincing results.

During the 1980s, Targ and others further enhanced and refined the technique, eventually developing a powerful, practical application called Associative Remote Viewing, or "ARV" for short. He used ARV as a tool and method for investing in the silver futures market, and made substantial profits for his investors. Now, he has finally decided to teach ARV to individuals who have been looking for a practical use for their Remote Viewing skills.

The resulting 2½-day intensive training workshop will be presented by Russell Targ and Marty Rosenblatt, a physicist who also has a long history of putting this system into practice. Targ and Rosenblatt will show you how to do it, and then they'll demonstrate it with actual live trading during the workshop itself.

An intensive, hands-on workshop: You'll learn the theory and then make actual trades.

On Day One, you'll brush up on Remote Viewing protocols, and then you'll learn the simple technique of Associative Remote Viewing. Targ and Rosenblatt will do live analysis and judging of participants' ARV sessions, and you'll learn to do the same kind of analysis yourself. By the end of the day, you'll be doing ARV for a simulated trade.

Then, Day Two of the workshop will delve deeper into simulated online trading. Each student will be involved in making buy and sell decisions. You'll do live trading on Day Three. All positions are closed out before the end of the day, so that risk is minimized. When the workshop is over you'll go home and continue trading with us for as long as you like. You've been looking for a practical application for Remote Viewing—what could be more practical than this?

A long-term proven track record of success.

This workshop is based on Russell Targ's proven track record. He has demonstrated the reality of these techniques many times, beginning with his initial experiments in the silver futures commodity market starting in October of 1982. The investors made profits in the "middle six figures," according to the Wall Street Journal.

Of course, we can't guarantee the same returns, but we can guarantee that the workshop will be interesting and informative.

Protocol 8—A successful approach to applying ARV in financial markets.

Marty Rosenblatt has developed an investment ARV protocol that was successfully tested with 15 viewers over a 17 month (January 2003 thru May 2004) period. 13 of the 15 viewers made a profit. There were a total of 926 Sessions with 325 Hits, 210 Misses, and 391 Passes. This is an overall Success Rate of 60.7%—where only 50% is expected by chance.

Four of the viewers accounted for a total of 667 (72%) sessions, each performing over 100 sessions. Two examples of their Success Rate Graphs are shown below. (The success rate is the number of hits divided by the sum of the hits plus misses.)

The Success Rate is plotted versus the Number of Sessions (where Passes are included in the session count). The top graph shows a viewer (really a viewer-analyst team) with 198 Sessions. The team started off with 14 Hits, 0 Misses and 9 Passes. They leveled off at a Success Rate of about 66%.

The bottom graph shows a viewer-analyst team that began with an early Success Rate that dipped below 30%. This team then raised their Success Rate to 70% and leveled off at about 65%—a 15% edge over chance. As these examples illustrate, the psychological ups and downs in long-term ARVing provide challenges and opportunities for personal growth for viewers and analysts.

In this workshop, you will learn Protocol 8 and do ARV viewing and analyzing. Investments will be placed and closed-out with a profit/loss based on this work.

Don't miss this rare chance to train with Russell Targ in person.

Russell Targ is a physicist and author who was a pioneer in the development of the laser, and co-founder of the Stanford Research Institute's investigation into psychic abilities in the 1970s and 1980s. He is co-author of Mind Reach: Scientists Look at Psychic Abilities; The Mind Race: Understanding and Using Psychic Abilities; Miracles of Mind: Remote Viewing and Spiritual Healing; and The Heart of the Mind: How to Experience God Without Belief. He most recently authored Limitless Mind: A Guide to Remote Viewing and Transformation of Consciousness. He is also an editor, publisher, songwriter, producer, a teacher, and more. Targ retired from Lockheed Martin as a senior staff scientist, where he developed laser technology for peaceful applications.

Martin Rosenblatt worked as a computational physicist and managed many projects in the development and application of sophisticated computer programs for analyzing high-energy problems of interest to the Dept. of Defense and NASA, e.g. hypervelocity impact and nuclear weapons effects. He was a founder, CEO and senior staff scientist of PhysiComp Corporation (1994) and its internet subsidiary. These were acquired by an internet company, and Marty is now President of PIA (Physics Intuition Applications). Marty has designed, managed and participated in eight ARV protocols. These protocols involved trading in financial markets and were developed and improved over the last 5 years. Marty's focus in this workshop will be to teach, with hands-on experience, the most successful protocol, Protocol 8. At the end of the workshop, the participants can take what they learn and form an investment club or use the approach on their own.

Q&A

Workshop Schedule & Fees

Q. How will investing be done after the workshop?

A. The workshop participants will be part of an ARV Investment Club.

Q. Do I need to have an email address?

A. Yes, this will be the primary way we will provide ARV sessions and coordinates after the workshop. Please provide your email address when you register.

Q. Do I need to bring any supplies?

A. Maybe your favorite writing pen.

Q. Who do I call for additional questions?

A. You will be given a direct number and be able to speak to a staff member after your initial call to register.

Q. Will I be trading during the workshop?

A. Yes, with all trades being closed out by the end of the day to minimize risk.

Q. Can we get our $1,000 investment at any time?

A. The $1,000 investment may go up or down in value. You can pull out your current account value at the end of any day; a check will be sent to you within 5 business days. Your account value is your original investment plus/minus any profit/loss due to trades.

Q. How will I know what my account value is?

A. You will have a password-protected webpage with your account value. Webpages will also display tables and graphs showing your historical performance.

Q. Can I really make money by participating in the workshop?

A. There is no guarantee that you will make money. You might actually lose money.

Q. Is it a requirement that I must already have learned remote viewing?

A. No, you will learn, during the first day of training, all you need to know to successfully remote view ARV targets.

Q. What is the value of being part of an investment club?

A. Fun, personal growth and the value of making consensus ARV decisions.
